The OnSolve Advantage

AI-Powered Threat Detection and
Mass Notification to Keep Your Organization Running

In today's dynamic risk landscape, threats are evolving rapidly, with far-reaching cascading impacts that can disrupt operations and endanger lives. OnSolve® is a critical event management provider built on decades of industry experience, with a mission to keep people safe, informed and productive when a crisis strikes. Our unified platform is powered by the most advanced technologies in AI-powered risk intelligence, mass notification and incident management to help save lives, protect communities and safeguard critical infrastructure.

Why OnSolve? Every Minute Counts™

We know critical event management is not one-size-fits-all. As your organization grows and matures, the OnSolve suite of products scales to meet your needs. Leverage any one, or combination, of our award-winning products to support you through every step of the critical event lifecycle: prepare, detect, activate and recover.

Prepare with risk assessments, historical trends and statistics before anything even happens.

Detect threats early with accurate, focused alerts and impact assessments.

Recover faster with the right technology to better understand, handle and mitigate risk.

Activate teams by disseminating information needed to quickly mobilize.
